President's Corner

Greetings Folks:

January has just flown by. Before you know it spring will be here. There are a couple of things coming up to keep in mind. The last weekend of March is Comancheria Days out at the Texican Rangers. If you've never participated, it's a lot of fun. If you can't make it out there, we've also got the Tejada Middle School History and Cultural Faire the same weekend. Minnesota Clay has graciously volunteered to honcho the event. We need more help, so please volunteer to participate. It's amazing how much fun the kids and their parents are.

If you read your Cowboy Chronicle, you know the name Cree Vicar Dave. He came to our January match and had a great time. He also gave a pitch for the Cowboy Chapel Fund at Founder's Ranch. After passing the hat, we collected $100. Crosscut volunteered to pen a short article for Cree Vicar Dave. So if you'd like to give him some suggestions on what to write, or have a photo or two for him to use we'd appreciate it.

Congratulations to all of the annual award winners. Competition was fierce. If you've been shooting the same category for a few years, think about moving to a different one for a match or two. It can be a lot of fun.

There have been some emails circulated about tagging and gun theft at the National Shooting Complex. We have not had any reported theft during a cowboy match. We also have not received any reports of any tagging during a cowboy match. Please read the article written by Rich Dierks, Immigration Enforcement Agent, Immigration and Customs Enforcement/Enforcement and Removal Operations.

Remember, this is your club. If you have a suggestion or want to write the stages for a match, let us know. See you on the firing line.

TAGGING GUN OWNERS VEHICLES AND THEFT AT THE NATIONAL SHOOTING COMPLEX

Submitted by cbaus on Wed, 01/25/2012 - 15:00. * NRA News * Education

Long before Al Gore "created" the Internet, gun owners were busy perfecting grassroots networking. Today, gun owners have an almost unlimited number of ways to spread information crucial to our community. And, while the Internet is certainly an indispensable tool for protecting our rights, an unfortunate side effect has been the fast and easy spread of rumors.

The latest of these, appearing on Internet message boards and in emails, warns of a growing trend of gangsters marking the license plates or wheels of vehicles parked at shooting clubs, gun stores, ranges and gun shows. According to the rumor, the thieves later spot or follow the marked vehicles and break into them to steal guns while their owners are elsewhere.

The reports go on to claim that the tactic has reached "epidemic" proportions in San Antonio, Texas, and specifically, at the National Skeet Shooting Association and National Sporting Clays Association's National Shooting Complex. Naturally, the NSC investigated the matter thoroughly. They concluded that the rumor is false on several counts.

First, all of the "suspicious" vehicle markings reported to the NSC turned out to be routine—placed there by those who manufactured, owned or serviced the vehicles. The online reports also suggest that the NSCA National Championship was a particular target of gun thieves. In reality, there were no reported gun thefts at the 2011 event. A claim that a police chief in San Antonio met with 400 shooters to discuss the trend is also false. (To read the NSC's full statement, go to <http://www.nssa-nasca.org/index.php/2012/01/nsc-response-to-rumors-about-...>)

Gun theft is a serious concern for all gun owners, who should certainly take reasonable precautions to protect their firearms from criminals. But the truth of this story should also remind us that there's no need to panic — and that it's always worth taking a few moments to check out tales like this before passing them on. After all, it would be a tragedy if shooters were discouraged from pursuing the activities they love and exercising their Second Amendment rights due to rampant urban legends.

Very Respectfully,
